

Notice of Data Security Incident

Wilmington, North Carolina – July 19, 2022 – Liberty Healthcare Group (“LHG”) experienced a data security incident that may have resulted in unauthorized access to certain individuals’ sensitive personal information. While we have not received any reports of related identity theft since the date of the Incident, this notice is intended to alert those individuals of the Incident, steps we are taking in response, and resources available to help you protect against the potential misuse of your information.

What Happened? On or around April 19, 2022, LHG discovered that certain employee email accounts were subject to a business email compromise (the “Incident”). Upon discovery of the Incident, LHG conducted an internal investigation. In addition, LHG engaged independent cybersecurity experts to conduct a forensics investigation to determine the nature and scope of the incident and to assist in remediation efforts. The forensics investigation confirmed unauthorized user activity within certain LHG employee email accounts.

As such, LHG has hired a third party vendor to analyze the contents of these email accounts to identify any individuals whose personally identifiable information (“PII”) and/or protected health information (“PHI”) may have been compromised. That analysis is ongoing. At this time, LHG is still in the process of identifying those individuals whose information may have been impacted. Upon completion of the review, LHG will notify affected individuals via postal mail and provide them with steps that they can take to protect their information. Meanwhile, LHG is providing this notice to its patients out of an abundance of caution – regardless of whether or not their information has been exposed as a result of the Incident.

What Information Was Involved? While it appears that some individuals’ information may have been impacted as a result of the Incident, the investigation as to what specific information may have been compromised remains ongoing. Once again, LHG is still in the process of determining whose information may have been impacted. Upon completion of the investigation, any potentially affected individuals will be notified by mail as to the information that was impacted as a result of the Incident.

What We Are Doing? Data privacy and security are among LHG’s highest priorities, and there are extensive measures in place to protect information in LHG’s care. Since the discovery of the Incident, LHG moved quickly to investigate, respond, and confirm the security of its systems. Specifically, LHG engaged a specialized third-party cybersecurity firm, changed administrative credentials, implemented multi-factor authentication, and will continue to take steps to mitigate the risk of future harm.

What You Can Do: We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud, to review your account statements, and to monitor your credit reports for suspicious or unauthorized activity. Additionally, security experts suggest that you contact your financial institution and all major credit bureaus to inform them of such a breach and then take whatever steps are recommended to protect your interests, including the possible placement of a fraud alert on your credit file. Please review the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Information, to learn more about how to protect against the possibility of information misuse. Again, at this time, we have not received any reports of related identity theft since the date of the Incident.

Other Important Information: We recognize that you may have questions not addressed in this notice. If you have additional questions, please call our dedicated call center at 1-833-423-2975 Monday through Friday, 6:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. Pacific Time, except holidays.

LHG sincerely regrets any inconvenience or concern that this matter may cause, and remains dedicated to ensuring the privacy and security of all information in our control.

Sincerely,

Liberty Healthcare Group

Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Information

Credit Reports: You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, whether or not you suspect any unauthorized activity on your account. You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three nationwide credit reporting agencies. To order your free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com, or call toll-free at 1-877-322-8228. You can also order your annual free credit report by mailing a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form (available at <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/0155-free-credit-reports>) to: Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA, 30348-5281.

Fraud Alerts: You can place fraud alerts with the three credit bureaus by phone or online. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. As of September 21, 2018, initial fraud alerts last for one year. Victims of identity theft can also get an extended fraud alert for seven years.

Monitoring: You should always remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing credit card account statements and by monitoring your credit report for suspicious or unusual activity.

Security Freeze: You have the right to place a security freeze on your credit report. A security freeze is intended to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. To place a security freeze on your credit report, you need to make a request to each consumer reporting agency. You may make that request by certified mail, overnight mail, regular stamped mail, or by following the instructions found at the websites listed below. The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse or a minor under the age of 16, this information must be provided for him/her as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name and current mailing address, and the date of issue. As of September 21, 2018, it is free to place, lift, or remove a security freeze. You may also place a security freeze for children under the age of 16. You may obtain a free security freeze by contacting any one or more of the following national consumer reporting agencies:

File Police Report: You have the right to file or obtain a police report if you experience identity fraud. Please note that in order to file a crime report or incident report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide proof that you have been a victim. A police report is often required to dispute fraudulent items. You can generally report suspected incidents of identity theft to local law enforcement or to the Attorney General.

FTC and Attorneys General: You can further educate yourself regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, security freezes, and the steps you can take to protect yourself, by contacting the consumer reporting agencies, the Federal Trade Commission, or your state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission can be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, www.identitytheft.gov, 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338), TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement.

For residents of Iowa: State law advises you to report any suspected identity theft to law enforcement or to the Attorney General.

---

For residents of Massachusetts: It is required by state law that you are informed of your right to obtain a police report filed in regard to this incident. If you are the victim of identity theft, you also have the right to file a police report and obtain a copy of it.

---

For residents of New Mexico: State law advises you to review personal account statements and credit reports, as applicable, to detect errors resulting from the security breach. You have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in your credit file has been used against you, the right to know what is in your credit file, the right to ask for your credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to your file is limited; you must give your consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; you may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report; and you may seek damages from violators. You may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage you to review your rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act at www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504\_cfpb\_summary\_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.
